President's Letter

Dear Friends,

At the Leo Buscaglia Foundation we are proud to be carrying on the life principles of our founder by making grants to small but highly effective non-profit organizations that are fostering the spirit of giving in their communities.

It is with great pride that we share a list of the Foundation's most recent awardees in 2015 - eighteen organizations received grants totaling $85,000! Our grants are relatively small, but each grant is meaningful to an organization working on the ground with those who are in need. Please see the enclosed 2015 Grant Recipient Summary.

"It is better to give than to receive." Leo firmly believed in and lived by the principle of giving back. He felt his good fortune should be used to help others to improve the quality of life in their communities. Organizations with lean budgets and a core volunteer or mentoring component were of particular interest. We at the Leo Buscaglia Foundation are proud to be associated with the organizations we helped fund in 2015.

On behalf of the board and staff, thank you for your interest and past generosity. As you consider charitable giving this holiday season, we hope that you will include the Leo Buscaglia Foundation in your plans. With your help, we will continue to spread Leo's legacy and to support the good works of organizations that are providing exceptional service to their communities.

Best wishes for the season,

Jennifer M. Mennell
President
